

NEBOSH National Certificate in Construction Safety | NGC1 Exempt

Course Introduction

This qualification is open only to candidates who have already completed the NEBOSH NGC1 module within the last five years. Whether as a stand-alone qualification or en-route to gaining The National General or Fire Certificates you can register for the final 5 days of our full NEBOSH General Certificate course, complete the project and sit the exam to gain the full NEBOSH General Certificate.

Course Pre-Requisites

Candidates Booking this course must have completed NGC1 within 5 years of this course. If uncertain, to ensure that you are eligible for this course, please contact NEBOSH on +44 (0)116 263 4700. You will need your current certificate for reference. If you have not successfully completed the NEBOSH NGC1 module you will need to sit our full NEBOSH National Construction Certificate course.

Course Topics

Monitoring, Review & Audit Accident Investigation & Reporting Construction Law & Management

CDM Regulations Construction Related Hazards Excavation & Confined Space Hazards Manual

Handling Hazards Electrical & Fire Hazards Chemical & Biological Health Physical & Psychological

Health Equipment Hazards & Control Workplace Safety Inspections & Reporting

Course Benefits

Anybody with Managerial Health and Safety responsibilities in a construction setting should set the acquisition of this qualification as a key goal to fulfilling their role. Likewise if your interest is to become a Site Health and Safety

Manager this is your ideal starting point.

Assessment Method

2 hour written Exam & Project (GC3)

Qualification Expiry Lifelong

To book email us on: info@fourconstruction.co.uk